At the age of 22, Frankie Chesler can already be considered a veteran of the Canadian Equestrian Team.

In five short years, Chesler has accomplished what most show jumping riders, save an elite few, spend decades dreaming about. When she was only 17, Chesler made her international debut riding as a member of the Canadian Equestrian Team in Nations'

Cup competition at the National Horse Show in New York City.

The following year, she was crowned Junior Jumper Champion, open to riders aged 18 and under, at the Wellington Equestrian Festival in Florida where huge entries make every win hard-fought. The year 2000 again saw her compete in Nations' Cup competition, this time at the Washington International Horse Show, but it

Frankie Chesler has been successful in attracting a long list of sponsors as a result of her hard work, attention to detail and results in the show ring.
